Most of our customers are probably already aware that San Antonio Security (SAS) installs and monitors both Security and Fire alarm systems. However, some of you may not be aware of the fact that SAS is known for its ability to "Customize the Installation Process" as a sort of "Security Art" if you will. Over the past 49 years, SAS has separated itself from other stereo-typical type of alarm companies by offering a schedule of protection that is custom suited to those requests received from our clients, not just a menu of limited packages. Our desire is to educate our customers of the different types of detection devices that are available for their particular environment and allow those customers to ultimately decide which level of protection they are comfortable with. After the equipment is discussed and a package is finalized, SAS works with all available trade techniques and some 49 year old company developed techniques to get the equipment installed in a manner that is least obtrusive to the naked eye. We focus on hiding wiring and equipment so that the area is left with its original but now more protected feel.

If your Security Equipment has become dated, please allow us to show you the latest and greatest options that are available for you. As technology continues to advance, so does SAS. If you are interested in remote smartphone control of your alarm or cameras, or a touchscreen talking keypad, or maybe even a cellular/internet type communicator for the alarm so that you can eliminate the need for a monthly telephone line, SAS has it. If you are interested in controlling your lights, locks and thermostats via your smartphone or having instant notification sent to your phone when someone turns the alarm on/off, SAS has it. Maybe you are interested in looking in on your home or office cameras via your smartphone or on the web, SAS has it. Maybe you have received an offer or solicitation from another alarm company which interests you, please allow us the opportunity to be competitive in our realm of expertise, service and technology. With our dedicated and devoted 49 Years of Experience, let us show you the "Art of Security".

Welcome to SAS
